JUNIOR SOFTWARE ENGINEER

OpenWay is an international group of companies with over 20 years' experience in developing and implementing innovative software solutions for the financial transaction processing and payment card business. OpenWay provides payments transaction solution that enables financial institutions to meet the dynamic and competitive requirements of the financial industry. OpenWay's primary product, WAY4, is regarded as industry leader by Gartner in Switch and Card Management System globally with Open Standards.

We are looking for people who love a challenge, and have a nice balance of technical, business oriented skills. This job is designed to be most interesting to those people with technical or business grounding in the financial switch or cards environment who see themselves as capable, customer-facing partners in the presales and implementation process.

RESPONSIBILITY

- Responsible for preparing and customizing application following project specific requirement.
- Develop and maintain knowledge of product, integration, applications and services of the company and its competitors.
- Perform installation and configuration of applications at client sites; provide onsite training to clients;

BENEFIT

- Junior: from $ 600, negotiable salary rate for experience candidate.
- Corporate health insurance from Liberty.
- Health care allowance USD 250/ year.
- Business Travel Allowance (Overseas USD 75/night, Domestic 40/night)
- Bonus performance according to company and individual performance.

REQUIREMENTS

- Possess at least a Diploma or higher qualification in Information
- Technology, Computer Science, Computer Engineering or equivalent.
- Have experience of development life-cycle experience and project experience in installing, configuring, testing and training clients.
- Have interpersonal skills, including an ability to communicate technical ideas clearly, effectively and convincingly.
- Strong analytical and problem solving attributes.
- A willingness to leverage technical skills in support of Pre Sales activities.
- Proficient in Microsoft Office products such as PowerPoint, Excel.
- Have understanding and extensive experience with C, Java, web base environment, Unix and Oracle PL/SQL (experience in Oracle DBA is an advantages).
- Have communication skills and fluency in English, both written and spoken.

Please submit your CV to:

Ms. Ly Quynh Trang

Email: qtly@openwaygroup.com

Or Mobile: (+84) 977004473